104th General Assembly Ends Session Today

Call End-of-Month Meeting For Action On DiSalle Vetoes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The deskbound 104th General Assembly goes home today. It has been sitting 28 weeks.

With the exception of presiding officers, who must come back next Tuesday to sign bills, the lawmakers won't return until July 31.

That end-of-the-month session is scheduled for possible action on vetoes by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, plus any other matters that needs cleaning up.

If the Republican majority thinks it can muster the Democratic help it needs to override a veto, an attempt might be made at that time to trample Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's veto of all second-year appropriations for operating the state government.

Indications are the Senate may delay considering the "A & B" — additions and betterments — bill until then. It calls for $54.2 million for state construction projects (including $11 million for a new state office building) and was passed by the House this week.

An omnibus court bill, and possibly a House-approved bill to increase employers' assessments for the state unemployment compensation funds from 2.7 to 4 per cent of payrolls, were among measures though likely to get Senate attention today.

Another good possibility for action in the Senate was the plan to create a district for Ohio's new 24th congressman from Preble, Butler, Warren and Clermont counties.

Members of the House primarily are waiting for the Senate to wind up. But the House passed a bill last month which calls for the additional congressional district to be composed of Butler, Warren and Clermont counties.

If the Senate passes its version, reconciliation of the two plans could take time.

The Senate passed a House-backed bill giving the civil rights commission specific authority to hear cases in which discrimination in public accommodations is alleged because of color, race, religion or national origin.

A House-approved bill appropriating $974,984 to pay various claims against the state met sudden and surprising defeat in the Senate. Reconsideration of the vote is a possibility.

The Senate did approve the school support bill. It increases the state subsidy to local school

Import Threat To Potteries Underscored

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A Newell, W. Va., industrialist predicted here Wednesday that there will be no dinnerware plants in the United States in five years if imports are not restricted.

President W. A. Harris Jr. of Edwin M. Knowles China Co. was one of seven union and industrial representatives testifying before a House Labor Subcommittee studying effects of imports on domestic china and glass industries.

Earlier, President Robert Hannum of Fostoria Glass Co. at Moundsville, W. Va., said the nation can't long maintain high wage and living standards without protection against "low wages and lower standards of living in competing foreign countries."

And President Nathan H. Burkett of Local 10, American Flint Glass Workers Union, AFL-CIO, which represents Fostoria employees at Moundsville, said 13 glass companies in the area have gone out of business in the past 10 years.

City Planning Unit Supports County Plan

The Salem Planning Commission at a meeting Wednesday gave Mayor Dean Cranmer permission to sign a petition throwing the city's support behind the establishment of a Columbiana County planning board.

The petition will now be sent to the county commissioners. According to the Ohio general code, a majority of county communities can petition county officials to take the necessary action to create and maintain a county planning board.

The only cities in the county, besides Salem, with planning commissions are East Liverpool, Columbiana and East Palestine, and the city hall at East Palestine reports that its planning commission is inactive at this time.

If the East Palestine commission is counted, it would take the support of all three of the other community commissions to obtain the majority vote necessary for setting up the county board.

Mayor E. L. Calvin of Columbiana reports that village planning commission will meet tonight and he feels confident that it will endorse the county planning board proposal.

No report has been received as yet on the intentions of the East Liverpool commission.

Mayor Cranmer, who advocates formation of a county planning board, says he has been told by state officials in Columbus that lack of a county planning system has been a deterrent to bringing new industries to this county.

The Columbiana County Mayors Association also has been pushing for a county-wide planning commission.

Top Advisors Meet With JFK

Prepare For Soviet Disarmament Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's top disarmament adviser goes to the White House today for final instructions on a new round of talks with the Soviet Union about setting up a broad-scale disarmament conference later this summer.

John J. McCloy, who is due in the Soviet capital for talks opening next Monday, was scheduled to meet with Kennedy at noon. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President for security affairs, were to take part in the meeting.

U.S. officials say they are determined to make every possible effort to come to some agreement with Soviet leaders on new disarmament negotiations, but they face the future with dwindling hope of success.

Opinion is divided on the question, but many authorities in high position here see little prospect of progress in disarmament talks at this time. The reason: the tough aggressive attitude which Soviet Premier Khrushchev recently has been developing toward the United States and its allies, primarily over the Berlin issue.

The announcement by Khrushchev last weekend that he had ordered a halt in previously scheduled cutbacks in the strength of the Soviet armed forces has been taken here as typical of the tough, tension-creating policy which he now pursues.

Efforts by the United States and Britain to come to some understanding with the Soviet Union on a treaty for prohibiting nuclear weapons tests under an international inspection system have bogged down completely.

The nuclear test conference at Geneva is still technically under way but for weeks has made no progress whatever. U.S. and British negotiators have found what they consider evidence that the Soviets have lost interest in getting a nuclear weapons test ban.

Leetonia Board Sets $369,821 Budget

LEETONIA — The Leetonia Board of Education approved a budget of $369,821 for 1962 at its meeting Wednesday night.

This is approximately $83,500 less than the 1961 budget, due in part to a decrease in state foundation funds. These monies will be less because of decreased enrollment in the elementary grades, increased valuation of property in the village, and hiring of non-degreed teachers, it was explained.

Reimbursement through the National Defense Education Act and the bus payment program were also responsible for the larger budget last year.

The Board is contemplating an operating levy on the November ballot to take care of unexpected emergencies which will leave a deficit of approximately $16,000. This measure may be necessitated due to the repairs at the Washington Building will will cost $10,000 and the purchase of the Frank Stoffer property of 20 acres adjacent to the Orchard Hill Building at a cost of $6,000.

The Board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Jane Myers, fourth

California Fires Being Aided By Dry Weather

Fighters Attempt To Contain Blazes In Yosemite Area

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP)—Fire fighters today hoped to contain two of California's largest brushland fires of the season, barring more hot winds that have aggravated one of the state's worst droughts in history.

The fire advance slowed five miles from the Bass Lake resort, just off State Highway 41, the year-round route into Yosemite.

Crews were slowly drawing lines around blackened 63,000 acres of brushland that flank this famed Sierra vacation spot.

Towns threatened by flames were apparently out of danger.

The largest fire, which centered about 15 miles south of the park, has burned 38,000 acres, consumed two mountain villages and trapped and killed a couple fleeing in their car.

Dean Schlobahn, State Division of Forestry dispatcher at Fresno, was optimistic.

"If we get a little rain, without the winds, we should be able to control this fire in two days," he said.

Forty miles to the northwest fire fighters made progress with a blaze that began in Calaveras County Sunday and raced south into Tuolumne County, covering 25,000 acres.

Nature helped the fire battlers as winds died down, but a human menace plagued them.

A arsonist set two brush fires Wednesday near Jamestown. The blazes consumed hundreds of acres but no buildings, a forester said.

The large fire flared up Tuesday, burning the Madera County communities of Nipinnawasee and Ahwahnee. Only a few buildings were left standing.

Only known casualties were Mr. and Mrs. George Kipp, both in their 60s, who were burned to death in their car on a mountain road as they fled Ahwahnee.

Forestry officials said most of the unaccounted evacuees were taken in by residents of nearby communities.

State Division of Forestry dispatcher John Gookin said the new

Lightning Bolt Kills Eight Tobacco Pickers

CLINTON, N.C. (AP) — The farm workers were in the field harvesting tobacco when a typical summer shower started.

The workers, all nine of them, sought refuge in a nearby barn, as they had done before, leaving the cut leaf under a shelter, planning to return to their tasks after the shower ended.

For eight of them, there was no return.

A bolt of lightning smashed down the barn door, seared across the damp ground and cut them down in an instant, leaving no mark on their bodies.

Several other people in the barn were unhurt.

Among the victims was the sharecropper couple operating the

Possible Reincarnation Clues Sought By Top Psychiatrist

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Are there persons living today who lived another life in another body — perhaps in some bygone century?

An eminent University of Virginia psychiatrist isn't sure, but he says he has found enough evidence in a 10-year study to warrant further investigation.

For additional proof he is leaving Saturday for India and Ceylon, where several children claim to have memories of another life.

The doctor, Ian Stevenson, is professor of neurology and psychiatry and chairman of that department at the university's School of Medicine. He will work under a grant from the Parapsychology Foundation in New York.

He says succinctly, "There is some evidence that part of the human organism survives physical death." He says he is not referring to any organic part of the body, but "to what was called the soul in the 19th century."

Speaking of case studies of children who claim to have lived before, Dr. Stevenson says, "Apparent memories of this kind are fragmentary, and usually fade as the children get older. Such children usually remember from a dozen to 20 items, and these are usually scenes of strong emotional significance, such as the death of a mother or father."

Dr. Stevenson said he hopes to

Weather Over Ocean Tests Tiros Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A weather disturbance in the Atlantic could provide a quick test for the new camera-carrying Tiros III hurricane-hunter satellite.

The 285-pound satellite rocketed into orbit Wednesday to photograph and perhaps discover the cause of tropical storms. Within hours, the Miami Weather Bureau reported a disturbance southeast of Puerto Rico, 400-600 miles east of the Lesser Antilles.

Above-normal shower activity, clouds and moderate winds were reported from the area. Weather officials said over-all conditions were not favorable for hurricane development, but Navy hurricane patrol planes were to make a thorough aerial investigation.

A Tiros project officer said Tiros III probably would pass over the disturbance zone today and there was a possibility its two television cameras would obtain pictures of the potential storm.

A Thor-Delta rocket boosted the meteorological satellite into an orbit ranging from 460.74 to 506.52 miles above the earth. It circles the globe once every 100 minutes.

On its first pass, Tiros III transmitted 35 pictures showing cloud cover formation over Newfoundland, the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the St. Lawrence Valley region.

Mail boxes were introduced into the United States in 1858, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

If this sounds much like the famous case of the Pueblo, Colo., housewife who believed she was Bridget Murphy in 19th century Ireland, Dr. Stevenson isn't worried. He believes in the evidence produced in that study, but adds it is not one of the best examples.

Dr. Stevenson said he is going to India for a seven-week visit because cases suggesting a previous existence are more prevalent there than in Europe or America. He said that perhaps the Buddhist and Hindu beliefs in reincarnation provide a favorable climate for stories of this kind.

Hopes to Enjoy Retirement

Doris Tetlow Looks Back On 37 Years As Teacher

Miss Doris Tetlow, who announced her retirement this week after 37 years in the teaching profession, served her entire teaching career in the Salem Public School System.

In fact, 36 of those 37 years were spent in the same building.

Miss Tetlow's first teaching position was at Prospect School where she taught a fourth grade class. After one year at Prospect, she was transferred to Junior High in the Fourth Street school building where she has been working with the city's youth for the past 36 years.

AT THE JUNIOR HIGH School level, she taught music and various other subjects, including geography and social studies. Miss Tetlow also has taught in the sixth grade at Fourth Street.

She studied music at both the Mt. Union College Conservatory of Music and the Dana Musical Institute. The latter is now affiliated with Youngstown University.

Miss Tetlow received her B.S. degree in education from Kent State University.

Miss Tetlow says she has nothing definite planned for the future, but it can be assumed that her love for music will provide many interesting opportunities for her to take advantage of the well-earned spare time to which she is now looking forward.

SHE ALSO hopes to do some traveling.

When asked what she remembers best about her 37 years of teaching, Miss Tetlow commented, "That would be the many wonderful boys and girls here in Salem whom I have enjoyed knowing."

Miss Tetlow is the fifth teacher in the Salem Public School System to announce her retirement this year. Others retiring (years of service in parentheses) are Mrs. Alta Peterson (44½), Miss Lois Lehman (35), Mrs. Ruth DeMers (29½) and Mrs. Helen Mulbach (27).

Pakistan President Confers With JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ayub Khan of Pakistan meets with President Kennedy today to discuss Pakistan's sagging relations with India over the contested issue of Kashmir.

The two leaders were to discuss the Kashmir question at their second White House meeting Wednesday but concentrated instead on Pakistan's economic development problems.

Pakistan officials made no secret of their desire that the United States take a more prominent role in inducing India to meet with Pakistan at a conference table to arrange a settlement of the Kashmir dispute.

Pakistan has held out for a plebiscite conducted by the United Nations to decide whether Kashmir belongs to Pakistan or India. India has turned down the plebiscite and incorporated two-thirds of Kashmir into the Indian National Union.

Rodman Tells Rotary Of Convention Trip

Dr. William Rodman, research scientist and past president of the Alliance Rotary Club, a delegate to the Rotary International Convention in Tokyo, spoke to over 100 members and guests at the Salem club's annual picnic Tuesday at the home of R. S. McCulloch Sr.

Reporting on the Convention, which was attended by 23,378 Rotarians, Mr. Rodman spoke of the heavy international responsibility borne by each of the 500,000 Rotary members in the world.

Highlighting the international meeting, he said, was a speech by Sir Leslie Monro, past president of the U.N. General Assembly, who represented New Zealand.

land. Sir Leslie emphasized the need for a common standard of justice, equity and understanding to be applied to all nations. The fulfillment of this need would eliminate the wastefulness of war preparations and would pave the way to international peace, he declared.

Action is the keystone of Rotary International's program for the year and extensive preparations are underway for intensified international communications between its members, Rodman said.

You are healthiest if you're 20 pounds below average weight for your height and age, according to the Society of Actuaries.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Cautions for a Carefree Vacation

You don't have to be a crepe hanger, but you should give thought to some of the special risks that may confront the care-free vacationer.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

The first is the means of driving after having only a few convivial drinks with fellow vacationers.

A recent report from Colorado officials places the responsibility for traffic fatalities on drinking drivers in 50 to 75 per cent of accidents.

By drinking drivers, the report does not refer to persons obviously drunk but to those whose blood alcohol levels might not exceed the concentrations resulting from a few beers or two average-size cocktails.

THE SECOND IS that of eating raw clams and oysters. Officials of the United States Public Health Service verified the suspicion of local officials who attributed local outbreaks of infectious hepatitis ("catarrhal jaundice") to clams.

Because of the long incubation period of this serious virus infection (two to four months), it is often difficult to establish a cause-and-effect relationship.

However, in a Jersey study, better than half the patients admitted eating raw clams within 60 days of the onset of their illness.

The third is the danger of drinking raw milk or of eating raw sausage meat at a farmhouse whose spick-and-span cleanliness removes any obvious fear of the possibility of infection.

You must bear in mind that federal meat inspectors have all they can do to supervise wholesale and retail establishments that handle and process dairy and meat products. They cannot possibly extend their inspections to individual farmers and processors unless some particular need is brought to their attention.

AS RESULT IT may take some time to discover that a particular sample of raw milk is a source for the spread of streptococcal, tubercular or brucellar infection.

And, as was recently discovered in Pennsylvania, a small epidemic of trichinosis may be traceable to eating a batch of raw sausage.

Now tuberculosis, brucellosis (undulant fever of humans, Bang's Disease or infectious abortion of cattle) and trichinosis (caused by a round worm that settles in muscle tissues, including those of the heart) are serious illnesses. What ever the pleasures of drinking raw

Way Cleared For Overpass

The way is now cleared for an all-out effort to obtain a highway overpass at the West State St. grade crossing.

City Council's unanimous passage of a "consent" ordinance sets the legislative wheels in motion for the city and state highway department, jointly, to apply to the federal Housing and Home Agency for a $45,000 loan to finance preliminary engineering.

Approval of the loan, which is expected momentarily because of prior discussions with the HHA in Chicago by Mayor Dean Crammer, will permit Melvin Rackoff & Associates of Columbus, the state's recommended engineers, to begin actual plans for the overpass.

Since the State Highway Department already has told the mayor and Council that it has scheduled the improvement for the 1963-64 biennium, it is likely that engineering work will begin promptly.

Council, in sanctioning the overpass, first made Mayor Crammer "swallow the bitter pill" when both agreed that the city's share of financing would have to be done through revenue from the renewal of the city income tax of one-half of one per cent. The mayor objected to the income tax when it was first proposed a year ago.

Now, however, he and a lot of other citizens must agree that Council had little choice to raise needed additional revenue for municipal operations. The only alternative, a voter-approved operating levy, would hit only the property owners.

The city government gets "peanuts" compared to the revenue from millage that the schools receive, yet many uninformed persons criticize the city for not being progressive enough.

Salem can be just as progressive as it's citizens want it to be.

The West State St. overpass will be a major improvement, costing an estimated $1,300,000. The city's share is only $45,000. It looks like a good bargain to us.

J. R. Hoffa Is On the Move

It would be a waste of time to explain to James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union and its undisputed strong man since Dave Beck's come-uppance at the hands of fellow unionists and Senate investigators in 1957, why he now is in danger of being caught in a trap that has snapped shut innumerable times throughout history.

In the mood the newly triumphant Teamsters leader is in, fresh from his triumph at the union convention as the highest paid president of the world's largest union, he would not be receptive to the warning that he is entering a tragic phase of what has been a gusty, successful career.

Certainly it would make no sense to Mr. Hoffa at this moment to remind him that in a world which balances force with force all the people who are not with him at this climax of his career have no choice but to be against him.

HE HAS TOLD other union leaders it is his aim to become their undisputed leader and the strong man of their followers, as he has become the undisputed leader and the strong man of the Teamsters Union.

He has told politicians he expects to take over their power and show them once and for all what is the most powerful force in America i.e., political unionism and, specifically, his own union.

He has told employers and managers that when he takes over whichever political party loses the next presidential election he will use this power to dictate national policy regarding business enterprise.

He has told legislators he is tired of being harassed by congressional investigations and thinks his business from now on should be none of their business.

He has told that segment of the legal profession which believes with Attorney General Kennedy that Hoffa leadership of the Teamsters Union has condoned intolerable practices and shady characters that it is being unrealistic.

He has told the public, the goat for all head-on clashes between powerful and irconcilable forces, that he intends to become ever more powerful in the way he runs his union and the way he hopes eventually to run the country.

He has told the transportation industry that he hopes someday to be its czar, controlling everything that moves on wheels.

MR. HOFFA is a genius in his chosen occupation. By any standard of measurement, he is the "boy who made good." By any method of calculation, he is the labor leader most likely to be making key decisions in the next few years.

But his very strength now is what he needs to fear. He has affronted so many people while acquiring it and is in a mood to frighten so many more people with its use that he will bring into existence a determination to resist him stronger than any opposition he ever has known before.

It is possible that he might do all or nearly all, the things he has been telling people he intends to do. But it is not likely he will do them because he has reckoned without the irreconcilable opposition he will encounter as he sets out to override everybody who is not with him.

The net effect of everything he is doing may very well be the passage of more laws to curb his actions—the only means everybody can agree on to balance force and threats of force in a popular government.

James Riddle Hoffa has made it known he is on the move. Does he doubt for a minute that everybody he is threatening to run over is on the move too?

More Reluctant Than Indifferent

Perhaps the judges of Fayette County, Ohio, are right when they say public indifference is a threat which may kill the right of a trial by jury. But their verdict appears to have been announced without a complete weighing of the evidence.

The judges became alarmed last week when only 18 prospective jurors appeared

The Charter Study

The Charter Commission has been performing a real public service in attempting to draft a charter suitable for the city of Salem.

Not all members have been able to attend every weekly meeting but the majority has been present to give serious study to the review of the various phases of municipal operation, with the goal being to incorporate the best recommended procedures into a good Mayor-Council form of government under the charter plan.

Some commissioners also are duly-elected councilmen but fortunately the assignment at hand has transcended party lines. The dedicated efforts of the commission probably will produce a charter worthy of public consideration at the November general election.

Once Over

Peculiar crime development is manifesting itself where you would least expect it, in a world of picnics, outings and play!

One place where everybody could be found in good humor was thought to be on an excursion boat, but a river cruise can bring scenes of violence unlimited.

Twice within a month a riot on excursion boat Hudson Belle, outdid anything in "The Untouchables," with excursionists mauling one another and making shambles of the vessel.

We yearn for days when anybody could board excursion boat on summer day and pick out a comfortable deck chair with no fear he would be hit over head with it. Or open a bottle of soft-pop, confident he or she would not be slugged.

Ah, the bygone joy of going to upper deck for a better view of river scenery at any time during trip, instead of very early because of possibility the deck might soon be torn apart. Song of the excursion boat:

She slowly pulls into the stream
Where all is like a summer dream out of 40 summoned for duty in Washington Court House Municipal Court.

This situation could arise in any American community as easily as it did in Washington Court House, for many Americans are reluctant to serve on juries — not indifferent but reluctant.

A blanket indictment of the people of Washington Court House, Fayette County, Ohio, and the United States is over-severe.

Most Americans recognize that service on a jury is not only a right but a duty that the jury is the heart of the American judicial system. They respond to a call to jury duty. For every person who begs off jury duty for the flimsiest of excuses, there is one willing to serve who has never been called.

The difficulty our courts face, of course, is to match names in jury wheels with names of individuals who are ready and able to serve.

If you find yourself traveling in circles maybe it's because you're running around too much.

Two Ohio boys nearly drowned when their canoe tipped over. Always change seats in a canoe before you get in.

By H. I. Phillips

(The happy passengers relax . . .
A tranquil cruise seems near at hand
It's more than those aboard can stand;
All's well and in a mood of cheer—
(So have the ambulances near!)
A mother says "how nice a day!"
And then is kayped in a fray
A father smiles "From care I've fled"

And—sack!—he is left for dead.
A pair of lovers seem serene
But soon are in a battle scene
(Oh, pleasant day upon the blue—
The boat is wrecked and so are you!)

But let's not be too hard on water violence. There are riots all over on dry land.
At Coney Island there were five gang fights on the boardwalk at one time, requiring a call for riot squads. Similar troubles mark the vacation scene in many places.

What's wrong with people these days? Can't they tell a summer outing from an Algerian crisis?

Short-Of-War Crisis

By ROBERT J. DONOVAN
Herald Tribune News Service

WASHINGTON—In the critical discussions on Berlin being conducted by President Kennedy and his highest military and civilian advisers a number of conclusions are now taking shape.

The nub of the current thinking in the White House on this potentially most dangerous problem since World War I is this:

The Berlin conflict is more likely to turn into a prolonged series of short-of-war crises than it is to come to a head in a single nightmarish episode that could well precipitate World War III.

For this reason President Kennedy in particular believes that the American people are going to have to exercise a vast amount of patience in dealing with endless aggravations, annoyances and harassments.

Exercise of this patience is going to be a good deal more difficult than sounding off with shouts of "stand up to Khrushchev!"

It is known to be the President's opinion, however, that patience will be an essential ingredient in staying off an irrevocable crisis.

The view from the top of the United States government is that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev unquestionably will sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany but that he does not want a nuclear war.

Instead, the President and his associates believe, Mr. Khrushchev will elect to harass Allied commerce with Berlin through East German control points.

World Opinion Deterrent
During the discussions that have been proceeding here, doubt has been expressed whether in the face of world opinion Mr. Khrushchev is willing to take measures to starve out the people of West Berlin any more than the United States would be willing to starve out the Cuban people with a blockade of Fidel Castro.

The United States stands ready with its Allies to take whatever measures are necessary to overcome illegal interference with access to Berlin—but not to take graver steps than any particular act requires.

If traffic is blocked on the ground, supplies will be airlifted into Berlin, as they were in 1948 and 1949. There is deep hope here that Mr. Khrushchev would not give an order to pull a trigger that would shoot down an Allied plane. No one, including Mr. Khrushchev could foresee the consequences of such an act.

A suggestion that the United States promptly mobilize a million men as a warning to Russia to go slow on Berlin is being treated with considerable reserve in the highest council of the administration.

The arguments in favor of such a proposal are being countered with questions like this: What can we do now with a million men? Where will we put them? For each new division we put in Germany, cannot the Russians put five?

Allies to Boost Strength
Quite apart from new mobilization, however, it appears that there will be a boosting of Allied strength in Germany and increasingly closer collaboration among the Western Allies.

While there are doubts about the wisdom of immediate mobilization, however, very serious planning is going forward to deal with all manner of contingencies that may arise.

It is accepted in the highest quarters here that war—nuclear war—could break out over Berlin in spite of patience and all the rest of it. That is why this is a summer of foreboding in Washington.

The specter of American streets littered with dead confronts the President when he deliberates on the moves that he may have to make in the months to come.

The President is known to be taking the view in the private discussions that the United States can and must stand up for its rights in Berlin regardless of the danger involved. But he argues that if the country has to fight, then it must fight on terms best serving its own interests and those of its allies.

Reds Avoid Mass Invasion

He has observed that the Russians are careful not to send their troops charging across borders. The Russians take losses here and there without going to war over them.

The Soviet Union does not like to have American missile bases in Turkey but it has not invaded Turkey to dispose of them.

Contingency planning must deal not only with how the United States would react against interference with any legitimate military movements around Berlin but with the situation that would arise if, for example, East Germany should slap severe discriminatory taxes on commercial products moving into West Berlin. What steps should the Allies take in retaliation against this kind of harassment?

In the White House talks the President's attention has been called to some published criticism to the effect that he should talk to the people more about the dangers of the Berlin situation.

The President's feeling is that he has made his thoughts clear to the people.

In his television talk after the meeting with Mr. Khrushchev in Vienna he made plain that the experience had been a very sobering one.

At his press conference last week he warned that Soviet and East German leaders are apparently trying to heighten tensions. The Russians, he said, "would make a grave mistake if they suppose that Allied unity and determination can be undermined by threats or fresh aggressive acts."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: It was so difficult to decide which mother-in-law letter was the best that I selected two which felt were the most deserving and I am awarding duplicate first prizes.

The gold medals have been mailed to the winners who wrote the letters which appear in today's column. (I felt the writers of the letters should enjoy the thrill of presenting the medals.)

The medals are fashioned in gold, the size of a half dollar, with an overlay of gold braid. On one side is engraved "The Ann Landers Medal for the World's Best Mother-in-Law." On the other side, it is engraved "to from My warm thanks to the thousands who wrote. And to the winners, my heartiest congratulations.

Here are the letters:

Daughter-in-Law Says

Dear Ann Landers: My mother-in-law is a devout Roman Catholic. I am not. She never spoke to me about changing my religion, nor did she suggest ways to improve my housekeeping or my cooking or how to raise my children.

She told me what to do only one time in my life—and that was six months after her son's death. She said, "Jennie, I don't want you to go through life alone. You should remarry."

Four years ago my father-in-law passed away. He wasn't well-to-do but he left a modest estate. My mother-in-law gave me the same share of his estate that her son and daughter received. Although my husband had been dead several years and I had remarried, she said, "You are still my daughter-in-law."

The only time she ever refused me anything was shortly after she became widowed. I asked her to move in with me. She said, "Thanks a lot but one family under a single roof is plenty."

My mother-in-law deserves the highest praise that can be bestowed upon her. Her name is Mary Slaryk. She lives at 5824 S. Richmond St. in Chicago. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to tell the world about this remarkable woman. — JENNIE KAPISCHKE.

Son-in-Law Says

Dear Ann Landers: I was married in 1954. Neither my wife nor I realized at the time that my "social drinking" was just plain alcoholism.

For over four years my wife did her best to put up with me. Then she gave up and took the children and left. I can't say I blame her.

After that I really hit bottom. I ended up at the Kansas State Hospital in Osawatimie. I was a human wreck—no good to anybody.

The only person who stood by me during those dark days was my mother-in-law. She wrote me four and five letters a week, begging me to keep fighting. She said if I had faith in myself I could climb back up again and be a self-respecting human being. Her letters kept me alive. I learned during those horrible weeks that if just one person believes in you, you can make it back.

As soon as I got out of the hospital I joined Alcoholics Anonymous.

Taylor's Status

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Military Statesman In The White House

Something experimental and novel has been added to the executive system of the United States—a military statesman in the White House alongside a civilian president.

Throughout military circles, here and abroad, there is widespread curiosity, if not some concern, as to how the new arrangement will work out. Will it eventually mean a single military chief for the United States reporting directly to the president? Will it mean a new supervisor of the whole defense operation, both civilian and military?

These questions have arisen because President Kennedy has selected Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, formerly chief of staff of the United States Army, to serve in a special post at the White House covering duties which have never before been entrusted to any single military man.

Naturally, in the armed services themselves there is a bit of worry as to what changes will come. Assurances have been given officially by the President that the Joint Chiefs of Staff will still have direct access to him and that the presence of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs at National Security Council meetings will not be in any way of less importance than before.

Yet, from a practical point of view, Gen. Taylor is bound to become the most influential man in the shaping of military as well as international policy. For obviously, while the Department of State can express its views on what ought or ought not to be foreign policy from a diplomatic standpoint, all too often the final decision rests upon what military forces are available to back up a decision and what military problems may be introduced if a certain decision is made.

Gen. Taylor is an outstanding military man. He has the respect of his colleagues. He also is thoroughly familiar with the work of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, because he served on it and met certain frustrations there.

Rivalries between the armed services are due to a variety of causes, but the principal one is the amount of financial recognition given to each service through congressional appropriations.

The fear that one service will be given more money, and hence will be permitted to do more things, is usually held by each service chief.

THE FUNCTIONING of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has not been as satisfactory as the sponsors of the legislation had hoped when this system was officially created by Congress just after World War II.

But, even during the last war, the Joint Chiefs, though not an official body, participated informally in conferences with the President, who as commander-in-chief made the final decisions. Problems arising in a "cold war" are very different from those in a hot war.

The strategy that must be followed in order to avoid a "shooting war" is often more complex than the military operations involved in defending against attack.

Gen. Taylor is known as a man who believes that the emphasis on nuclear war has resulted in neglect of ground, naval and air forces which are called "conventional" and which would be used in the event that nuclear warfare were ever banned by international agreement.

President Kennedy, however, decided to appoint Gen. Taylor primarily because he needed at his side someone with a military background.

President Eisenhower didn't need such a man, as he himself had had this experience in World War II and throughout his lifetime in the military service. But Mr. Kennedy discovered in connection with the Cuban "invasion" that it was difficult to concentrate on an operation as important as this proved to be and yet carry on the normal business of the government.

GEN. TAYLOR'S task, in serving the President, is likely to be one of examination of the reports that come from all sources in the government as they affect the military.

He probably will have little or nothing to do with arms production or the Defense Department as such. But he undoubtedly will act as the principal adviser of the President on defense policy and, in a sense, will be somewhere in between the secretary of defense and the President when it comes to broad questions of policy-making.

This is much to be preferred over the system whereby the secretary of defense enters into a constant debate with the secretary of state as to what should or should not be defense policy, with nobody to decide differences that arise between them.

Gen. Taylor's job basically will be to co-ordinate the views of all those concerned with the military services as well as with the diplomatic side, but the final decision upon the recommendations he makes will, of course, be up to the President himself.

MR. KENNEDY, on the other hand, will feel better off with an expert analysis of all the information on a controversial subject than he would if he tried to make the decision after listening himself to the contending parties.

Fears and suspicions that all this will make a change in the functions of the Joint Chiefs will continue for a while and much will depend on the exact manner in which Gen. Taylor performs his duties.

It will be up to him to win the confidence of the Joint Chiefs, as well as of the secretary of defense and secretary of state, in his job as liaison man between all of these services and the chief executive.

BANANA APPEAL

ANYONE WANTING to make friends with an orangutan can see how it's done—at least how Swedish singer Siw Malmkvist did it. Siw, who is visiting England to make her first recordings, found a fan in London's Regent's Park zoo.

Siw gives a banana to soulful orangutan in an effort to make friends and influence him. Distributed by King Features Syndicate

The gesture pays off. The orangutan is influenced enough to join Siw's fan club.

Motherhood

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—I'd hate to be a mother.

When your hard-up neighbor down the street wins $356 on a daily double racetrack bet, he is hard enough to live with.

In one afternoon he has gone from the poor mouth to the rich mouth.

The morning found him reluctant to recognize his own virtue. The evening finds him unable to resist the temptation to denounce his government—dispraise his taxes. The money he has won has made him an authority on everything.

I'd hate to be a mother because she is like the gambler who won a daily double. It changes her whole outlook, too.

She gambled on a small investment and her reward as a winner is a moist bundle of maybe 7 pounds or so of crying human protoplasm. It is wet at both ends and dry probably only in the middle. And it stays that way month after month.

Life is full of laughter, but for some mystic reason no baby is ever born smiling. They all enter this world struggling in anger and fear and hunger. Too many leave the same way.

I'd hate to be a mother.

The year before she became a parent she is eager to discuss such intellectual questions as whether the earth would be better if Picaso had got stuck in his blue rather than his pink mood, or if Dr. Albert Schweitzer and Tennessee Williams could shake hands across the distance.

But the day after she becomes a mother she becomes a tigress. A hundred thousand or more infants may be born on a single day, but her world is instantly concentrated to the squirming kingdom of newness.

Day after day she reduces herself (by enlargement) trying to make this dewy glob into a person. She has to curb its normal, strident, gluttonous, wide-mouthed appetite for self-indulgence into discipline and acceptance of the aims and rights of others. She has to escort it sensibly and sensitively from yearning to learning to earning.

It is a hard and always difficult and often lonely and sometimes heart-breaking task.

The reward: If she does a good job—and microbes or war don't ruin her effort—the darn thing goes off on its own, leaving her to start its own family. If she does a bad job, it complains with the breath she gave it to object against the life she conferred.

I'd hate to be a mother. The job has so much responsibility.

Perhaps that is why women make the best mothers. They are much better gamblers than men.

Men bet themselves against now, and not always willingly. But most women are eager to stake themselves against eternity, gambling on a finer issue.

Motherhood is for the birds—of women with feathers of hope in their soul.

Boy Scout News

Hanover Troop 52

Eleven members of Boy Scout Troop 52 of Hanover Township recently spent a week at Camp Twin Spruce on Leesville Lake. They were: Dale and Richard Farmer, Gerald Clay, Mark and Richard Greene, Dale Mayer, Jim McClure, Steve Stambaugh, Mickey Faloon, Lester Syx and Delwin Wickersham. They were accompanied by Scoutmaster Donald Mayer of Hanover.

The boys earned five merit badges including rowing, cooking and life saving. All of the Scouts advanced a rank on the experiences and skills learned during the week.

Steve Stambaugh and Richard Greene attended instructors week prior to going with their troop, and acted as instructors while the troop was there.

The Hanover Christian Church has assumed the sponsorship of the troop, and is in the process of organizing a committee of men to help with the troop functions.

8 Girl Scouts Are Chosen For Roundup Trip In '62

Eight Senior Girl Scouts have been selected, because of their outstanding records in girl scouting, to represent the Salem Council at the Girl Scouts of the USA's "National Senior Girl Roundup," to be held at Button

Bay State Park, Vermont, July 18-31, 1962.

The Roundup patrol includes: Dianne Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Wright of Albany Road; Barbara Brelah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Brelah of 340 E. 8th St.; Karen Beeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Beeler of Franklin Road; Nancy Flack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Flack of 1284 E. 3rd St.; Kathy Kells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kells of 180 W. 10th St.; Kathie Hack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bruce Hack of 1240 E. 3rd St.; Rosemary Sechler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sechler of Goshen Road; and Susan Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snyder of 1197 Jennings Ave.

They will start an extensive training program in September.

Alternates Also Chosen

Eight alternates selected are: Francine Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Evans of 579 W. 8th St.; Connie Christofaris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Christofaris of Albany Road; Sally Minth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Minth of 1065 N. Ellsworth Ave.; Patricia Hollick, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Hollick, 652 Euclid Ave.; Susanne Yates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yates of Beechwood Rd.; Diane Scullion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Scullion, 1201 E. 10th St.; Judy Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hayes of 315 S. Madison Ave.; and Judy Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Durham, 491 Woodland Ave.

As a reward for their efforts, a special trip is being planned for the eight alternates at Roundup time.

The selections committee made every effort to select the best qualified girls for Roundup. At no time during the selection procedures were the names of the girls seen by the committee. All applications sent in were coded by a sub-committee prior to the selections committee receiving them.

Each code number was placed on a chart with the following information for each of the applicants: number of years a registered Girl Scout, Girl Scout camping experience, other camping experience, attendance and participation in troop and council activities, participation in troop and council service projects and completion of Wilderness camp course. This information was given consideration, without points, and used for check back reference.

Points were given for: offices held in troop and council, curved bar rank, applicant's letter and troop leader's indorsement; attendance at camporee, offices held at camporee, additional camping experience following camporee, applicant's health record and observers' indorsements. Mrs. Donald Flickinger, camp director of the Warren Council of Girl Scouts, was the out-of-town observer.

The selections committee members are: Mrs. Joseph Greenwood, chairman; Mrs. Hyman Chentow and Mrs. John Litty; sub-committee members are Mrs. F. S. Barckhoff Jr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hayes. Mrs. Amil Cosma, council president, is chairman of the Roundup committee.

B&W Tops Salem Stamping 12-7 For Fourth In Row

Lincoln, Eljer Cop Other Tilts

B & W Research notched its fourth win without a loss by tripping Salem Stamping, 12-7 in one of three Slo-Pitch League games at Kelley Park Wednesday.

In other games Lincoln Machine topped the Jaycees, 14-7 and Eljer handed the Post Office nine its third straight loss without a victory, 16-12.

Salem Stamping took a 2-1 lead in the first frame but B&W pushed two tallies across in the second inning to take the lead and never fall behind again.

Four runs in the fifth broke a 3-3 deadlock and four more in the sixth frame iced the contest for the winners. Stamping collected four tallies in the sixth inning all so.

PACING THE B&W attack was Bailey with a double and two singles. Dearth with a homer and a double, along with Shaffer and Hartenstein with two hits each aided the B&W win.

Strainer with a triple and two singles led the Stamping 13-hit attack. Gaydosch and G. Falk pitched in with two safeties apiece.

Lincoln Machine capped its first game of the year behind a 15-hit onslaught. The winners powered five runs across in the first inning on consecutive homers by Lewis, Jermolenko and Borrelli. Lewis' blow brought in three tallies.

The winners added five more runs in the third frame as Lewis tripled and Hartzell and Nunziar rapped doubles in the frame.

The Jaycees collected three hits in the first inning, all sin-

Special Races Headline Card At Canfield

Some young race fan will get another chance to get behind the wheel of a race car at Canfield Speedway Saturday. Last week 16 spectators volunteered to drive.

Ed Korda of Austintown drew the lucky number (or unlucky). He had the pole position in an amateur heat race with a field of 16 cars. Imagine how he felt sitting up in front on the first turn with 16 cars pushing him. Anyhow, he managed to get clear and finished the race.

Saturday Canfield will try it again when the amateurs and late models get together for a 10-race program. Ten events will be the biggest racing night of the season and some 55 cars will be on hand. Due to the large entry list, a consolation race for the amateurs has been added.

The second special race added will be a TV and Radio personality race. Several disc jockeys already have announced that they would run and several more are expected.

Among the list at present are Bob Spiegel and Bob Morgan of WBBW-radio; Boots Bell and Dick Thompson of WHOT radio and Bill Harris of WKST-TV. Joe Valicenti, sports director of WBBW, will be starter for this special event.

Meanwhile, the tempo has picked up at Canfield and fans are getting another view of "the good old days." It's possible that the drivers are hungry as they go all out and crashes are the rule.

Three pilots have joined the "Upside-down" club in the past two weeks and driving has been so hard that a feud is brewing. Jack Seibert of Girard and Bob Bowen of Conneaut tangled last week. Seibert came out on the bad end — up against the fence and lost a chance for the checker flag. He says he'll get the former Lakeville police chief this week.

Merchants Blanked By East Liverpool

East Liverpool's Dick Chamberlain scattered three hits as he blanked the Salem Merchants, 7-0 in a County-City Baseball League battle played at Centennial Park Wednesday.

The win was the 10th in a row for the Potters who sport a 14-1 season record and are 7-0 in second round play. Salem is now 9-8 overall and 4-3 in second round action.

For the first four frames both teams were locked up in a scoreless pitcher's duel as Moe Meissner of Salem limited the Potters to only four bingles and Chamberlain gave up two hits to the locals.

East Liverpool broke the ice in the top of the fifth as they punched three runs across and added four more in the top of the sixth to rack up its shut out.

Dick Beall, Bob Morlan and Jeff Roberts managed to collect a single apiece off of Chamberlain.

Gressford paced the East Liverpool attack with a double and two singles.

The Merchants will tangle with the Salem Merchants of the Pen-Ohio Softball League at 4 p.m. Saturday at Centennial Park. On Sunday Negley will invade Centennial Park for a 2 p.m. encounter against the local Merchants.

Major Leagues Swing Back Into Action

NY Can Grab First; Reds Take on Cubs

By The Associated Press

The major league pennant races interrupted by a wild wind in San Francisco, pick up again today with the All-Star game heroes back in the pack in the National League running and the All-Star game goats on the threshold of first place in the American.

The New York Yankees, whose sluggers, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, contributed just one single between them in seven trips as the NL beat the AL 5-4 in 10 innings at San Francisco Tuesday in the windswept All-Star game, play at Chicago tonight and could regain the lead from idle, first-place Detroit.

KSU to Host Open Tennis Tournament

The fourth annual Seaway-Northeastern Ohio Open Tennis Tournament sponsored by Kent State University's Division of Health and Physical Education and the Northeastern Ohio Tennis Association, is scheduled to be played on the University courts July 22, 23, 29 and 30.

This tournament takes the form of the NEO championships in three divisions; the Men's, Women's and Men's 45 singles and doubles. It is sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association and all participants must register by July 17.

Defending champions from a year ago include Cleveland ace, William Nagy, Jr., in the men's singles, Edward DiLeone and G. Robert Schofield, in the men's doubles, Kay Whidden in the Women's singles, and Francis Taft and Kay Whidden in the Women's doubles.

Any information for the Fourth Annual Seaway Tourney can be obtained by writing to Karl Chestnutt, at Kent State University.

Yanks, Giants Like Extra-Inning Tilts

NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe the New York Yankees and San Francisco Giants should receive additional pay for working overtime. They have the best major league records in extra-inning games.

The Yanks, only one percentage point behind Detroit in the American League pennant race, have won four overtime games and lost two for a .667 mark. The Giants have four victories, only one setback and one tie to lead the National League with .800, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today.

Jay Has Top NL Earned Run Average

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Jay, largely responsible for Cincinnati's rise to the top of the National League, is the circuit's earned run leader at the season's halfway mark.

The 25-year-old right-hander, obtained from Milwaukee last winter, has allowed only 39 earned runs in 132 innings for a 2.66 average, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today.

Hoyt Wilhelm, Baltimore's relief specialist, striving for his third ERA title, boasts the lowest mark in the American League —2.07. The veteran knuckleballer has worked 78 innings while giving up 7 earned runs. The leaders are based on 75 or more innings.

Jay has become one of the Reds' mound aces with a 12-4 won-lost record. The 6-4, 225-pounder has completed 7 of his 17 starts with 2 shutouts.

Wilhelm has won 6 games and lost 4. The 37-year-old right-hander led the National League in ERA with 2.43 in 1952 while pitching for the Giants. As a member of the Orioles in 1959, Wilhelm topped the AL with a 2.19 average.

Tribe Begins Long Home Stand Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, 8 1/2 games off the pace in fourth place, have their best chance in quite a while to gain some ground on the leaders. Their next 12 games—all at home—are against teams against which they have an excellent won-lost percentage.

The Minnesota Twins are in town tonight for a single make-up game. Then the Los Angeles Angels come in for a pair. Minnesota follows for a double header, and the Indians wind up the home stand with four games against the Boston Red Sox. Against the three teams combined, Cleveland has won 16 games while losing only two for a blazing .888 percentage.

The Tribe has beaten Minnesota five times without a loss. They are 5-1 against both the Angels and the Red Sox.

After the home stand, Cleveland plays Minnesota, Kansas City and Los Angeles three games each. So there is room for optimism for Cleveland loyalists.

Mudcat Grant (8-2) will try to get the Indians back on the winning path tonight. His opponent will be Pedro Ramos (5-10).

Downpour Improves Palmer's Chance to Win Heavy Rain Drenches British Open Course

BIRKDALE, England (AP)—Arnold Palmer's prospects of capturing the golf title he covets, the British Open, improved today after hours of heavy rain drenched the parched fairways and greens of the Royal Birkdale links.

Course Needed Rain
"I'm happy to see the course getting a soaking," said the favored pro from Latrobe, Pa. "It needed rain—and I'm sure playing conditions will be the better for it."

Palmer was poised at 70 after the first round of the championship, which carries a first prize of $3,920. He was two strokes behind the three first-day leaders—defending champion Kel Nagle of Australia, Harold Henning of South Africa and Dai Rees of Wales.

Three others were on 69, but Palmer's biggest rival for the title, Gary Player of South Africa, trailed at 73.

108 Golfers Competing
None of the 108 golfers competing for the title wants rain while they're actually playing. But most agree that the drenching will make the greens hold the ball better.

The reason why it suits Palmer is that he always plays right for the pin with raking irons—and the slower the greens, the more likely he is to start scattering birdies around.

The other three golfers at 69 were Dave Miller of Scotland, Norm Johnson of England and Jean Garaialde of France.

63 Qualify for Opening Round

Match Play Starts In Ohio Amateur

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 55th amateur golf championship settled down to man-to-man combat today.

Defending champion Dan Carmichael of Columbus joined 63 hopefuls who qualified the last two days in match play extending through Sunday. A pair of 18-hole rounds today will whittle the field of 16 by nightfall.

Carmichael, 42, World War II Naval ace, met Vic Banish, a public linkster from Warren, in today's opening round.

Bob Seyler of Mansfield, who came from nowhere with a round of 70 Wednesday to capture medal honors with a par 144, also had a fee-course representative as his opening opponent — Don Stickney of Columbus, who gained fame three years ago by defeating Jack Nicklaus in this same fixture. A year ago, Seyler defeated Stickney 1 up in the second round.

Seyler Wins Medal Honors
In Wednesday's qualifier, two-day scores of 158 were good enough to get into the match-play bracket, but 10 players tied at that figure were forced to play off for the final eight berths. Pete Freuh of Lima and Nick Vitt of Toledo failed to make it.

Seyler was the only one of 219 entrants able to match par over the 6,719-yard Inverness course as he tacked a closing 70 to his opening 74. Seyler finished three strokes ahead of Tony Ruddy of Toledo and Chet Sealey of Gallipolis, who wound up with 147s.

Hager Qualifies 16th

While Seyler was winning the medalist honors, another Mansfielder also was making history. Al Hager qualified for match play for the 16th straight time, a record, and was booked against high school champion Bobby Littler of Athens in today's opening set.

Carmichael, who had won the tournament medal honors three times, was not required to qualify but he turned in a 73-79-152 in a pair of practice rounds.

Wednesday's qualifying scores included:

Has Been A Manager 13 Years

Chicago's Lopez May Call It Quits After This Season

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Al Lopez, veteran baseball player and manager who has spent 36 of his 52 years in the game, said Wednesday he may retire at the end of this season.

However, in an interview with Ralph Warner, Tampa Tribune sports columnist, Lopez said he didn't know what it would be like to "be out of the game."

When asked directly if he planned on retiring, he answered: "Could be."

Lopez, pilot of the Chicago White Sox, has been a manager 13 years.

The Tampa native started playing professional baseball as a 16-year-old catcher in the Florida State League. He spent 18 years as a major leaguer before becoming a manager.

In Chicago, the Sun-Times said it had contacted Lopez in Florida and quoted the White Sox manager as saying: "I don't know where he (Warner) got it."

Lopez said he told Warner he's not worrying about next year because he has a contract which runs through 1961 and "I'll finish the season before making any decisions."

West Virginia's national championship rifle team won 14 of 15 matches.

Apple Cheese Puffs and Hot Sauce

Canned apple sauce, apple juice, canned apple slices are products of 1001 uses. They fit happily into any meal from breakfast to late evening snacks.

When these puffs arrive fresh and hot on lunch or supper table, they're golden brown and crisp-crunchy on the outside. Fork into them and you find soft fluffy hot rice with pockets of delectable melted cheese. And with it all, the surprise taste of apples! That's because the rice has been cooked in apple juice until all the juice is taken up by the rice, and the lovely apple flavor along with it.

¾ cup rice, ¾ teaspoon salt, dash cayenne pepper, 1½ to 1¾ cups apple juice, 1 egg, well-beaten, 1 cup American cheddar cheese (about ¼-inch cubes), 4 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 cups dry cereal flakes, slightly crushed.

Put rice, salt and pepper in saucepan. Cook rice according to directions on package using apple juice instead of water and omitting package directions for seasonings. Cook until all juice is absorbed. Remove from heat.

Add egg, cheese and parsley; stir well. Cool 30 minutes. Divide into 8 portions. Shape into rectangles, 3x1¼ inches; roll in cereal flakes. Place on greased baking sheet. Bake in 425 degree oven 10 minutes. Serve hot with Hot Spiced Apple Sauce. Makes 4 servings.

NOTE: If desired, Puffs may be partially made a day ahead of time. Before cooling in saucepan, pour rice and cheese mixture into a small bowl.

Cover and place in refrigerator. Next day, divide into 8 portions and continue as above.

HOT SPICED APPLE SAUCE

2 cups canned apple sauce, ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Combine apple sauce and cinnamon in a small saucepan. Heat, stirring constantly.

Survival Is This Car's Purpose--

FIRE WALL    COLLAPSIBLE SHAFT
FLEXIBLE SHAFT    DASHBOARD LINE
GEARBOX    FRAME

Cutaway view of a 1961 stock model shows safety features that make it "Survival Car II." More than eight years of research went into redesigned interior which "packages" passengers.

Whiplash protection for driver's head is afforded by padded headrest, left. Note shoulder straps. Capsule chair, right, protects in side crash. Rectangular wheel reduces knee injury.

"Survival Car II" has made its bow. It's a modified four-door sedan with safety features that make it almost impossible for its riders to be seriously injured in a crash. Designed and sponsored by Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. of Boston, it's the second such car to be built. The first "Survival Car," developed with Cornell Aeronautical Laboratories, appeared in 1957. That car featured a specially designed body. "Survival Car II," however, is a standard production model without radical structural changes. Other features, besides those shown above, include: a safety brake device should a hydraulic line fail; automatic extinguisher under the hood; roll-over bars in the capsule seats; and improved safety glass.
